Emergency Medical Management Software Partners with Web-Based Scheduling Solution

emsCharts offers eCore Software's time management solutions among their expanding suite of pre-hospital data products

West Mifflin, Pennsylvania – April 3, 2006 – emsCharts staff today announced the establishment of a strategic partnership with eCore Software Inc. to offer innovative joint technology products for the Emergency Medical Industry. This partnership allows emsCharts to combine their existing product line with eCore Software's scheduling, time-management, attendance, and payroll packages; enabling emsCharts to deliver a complete pre-hospital data management solution for Emergency Medical Services.

eCore Software's technology solutions are already in wide use by EMS operations across the United States. Two of eCore's popular products – Net Manager Pro and Net Scheduler Pro - will be available to emsCharts users. eCore's Net Manager Pro solution is a comprehensive set of record management tools built into one, web-based software package, ideal for public service organizations like fire departments, police departments and EMS operations. Net Scheduler Pro is eCore's web-based, enterprise solution that combines complex scheduling, time & attendance, and payroll management. Patrick Fitzsimmons, President of eCore Software Inc., speaks of the ease that the partnership provides customers, "The seamless integration of our products with emsCharts provides customers the opportunity to easily navigate between products and avoid duplication of common data records."

"emsCharts strives to deliver best-of-breed products to our customers," said Pete Goutmann, Vice President and founder of emsCharts. "We believe that this strategic partnership with eCore Software Inc. will provide the Emergency Medical Industry with a complete service management solution."
